Libraries Offer Opportunity to Read with Ringling Bros.

(Nottoway County, Virginia – December 27, 2016)

The Nottoway County Public Library System (NCPLS) is again participating in the Reading with Ringling program, giving children in the area the chance to earn a free ticket to what is called “The Greatest Show on Earth.” Each of the system’s three libraries has the requisite materials for children from 3 to 12 years old to read – or be read to – and receive a voucher good for a free children’s admission when the circus comes to Richmond (March 23-26).

“It can be hard to keep children busy during the winter months,” Jackie Zataweski, director for the NCPLS states, “and reading is a fun and relaxing activity that everyone in the family can enjoy.” Zataweski notes that there is no cost involved in obtaining a library card or borrowing items, and that materials are available in a number of forms; print and recorded books can be borrowed in person at any branch, and digital books, audiobooks, and magazines are available for all ages online.

Reading logs for the Reading with Ringling Bros. program, as well as information about other library programs and events, can be obtained at the Burkeville, Crewe, and Blackstone Libraries.
